PREFACE

Dear friends,

It gives us immense pleasure to share Annual Report (2022-23) of the organization. During the financial year, we move forward with working for and with urban poor for the right of the children. Though the organization's history goes back to 1987 and during these long 37 years with commitment to social vision, our experience has made us to believe that advocacy is at the core of democratic culture through which linkage between civil society and government can be developed. With the support to work, we ensure the rights of children i.e. Survival, Development, Protection and Participation. Working with community, we have always been child friendly and child centric with the belief that rights and responsibility always go hand in hand.

Our motto itself depicts of sustainability, which is “जिनका मुद्दा उनकी लड़ाई, जिनकी लड़ाई उनकी अगुवाई”. We believe in strengthening and empowering community so that they themselves move forward and raise concerned basti issues. We involve community members and adolescents too in planning, which helps us in doing need assessment and formulation of plan accordingly keeping in mind the need. Bal Sangathan (Children collectives), Mahila Mandal (Women collectives) and Joint Basti Committee (Community Based Organization) are actively functional in intervention area which is the strength of ASES.

At the UN Sustainable Development Summit in September 2015, Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) was adopted, where world leaders adopted a new 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development which is “a plan of action for people, planet and prosperity”. It also seeks to strengthen universal peace in larger freedom. At the heart of this universal, integrated and transformative Agenda are the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) arranged into three pillars: social, environmental, and economic covering 169 associated targets.

This year we got an opportunity to work with urban poor for and with whom we have been working and addressing issues like child rights, social security schemes, awareness & advocacy. During these years with commitment to social vision, our experience has made us believe that advocacy is at the core of democratic culture through which linkage between civil society and government can be developed.

In ASES, we work together closely and are mutually accountable to each other, ensuring that our fund and resources are utilized properly. We always ensure to adopt processes that are transparent and accountable. We would like to thank district administration, respective departmental officials, other organizations, individuals and all those who stand with us and support us as and when needed. We would also like to thank our members for their commitment towards society and organization.

While being committed to improve the quality of life of people, as usual, we always welcome your comments and suggestions to help us nurture the society further in better way.

About us

Adarsh Seva Sansthan (ASES) came into existence in 1987 in Jamshedpur's brick kiln areas for ensuring education of children. Brick kiln settlements were established by migrant workers on the banks of the river 'Swarnrekha' and 'Kharkai'. Slums in Jamshedpur (Jharkhand) are situated on the periphery of the planned city. Although hutments are now semi-permanent, there is no recognition of these residents in larger urban development planning programs.

ASES started operation for the development of slum children as most of the children were malnourished, suffer health problem due to environmental changes and didn't attend school. In order to educate the slum children, ASES started working in slums by starting Non-Formal Education School (NFES) comprising of 45 children in NTT basti, Jamshedpur. Gradually NFES in nearby basti followed. The year 1995-96 was a turning point for the workers as the lease of the brick kiln factories expired and was not renewed owing to environmental concerns. As a result, the brick kiln factories were closed. The migrated workers however continued to live in these settlements which are currently situated in different parts of Jamshedpur which is part of the TATA Lease Agreement.

Children, Men and Women are empowered through Bal Sangathan (Children Collectives), Joint Basti Committee (Community Based Organization) and Mahila Mandal (SHGs) which is Strength of ASES. ASES's welfare initiatives address core issues on Human Right, Child rights, Women's empowerment, Environment, Education, Crèche (Palnagar), and Advocacy
